

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Tells of Debutantes' Doings—She Talks of the Gilpin-Purchas Engagement—Other Matters of Social Interest

CAN it be possible that there is no debutante tea today? It's true there isn't one, so we other people who race to the teas will have a bit of a rest. Though goodness knows the buds won't, for tonight there will be the Hancock dance for Anita Evans and the Allan Wilsons are giving quite a good-sized dinner before that affair for Hope, their debutante daughter.

Caroline Barclay will come out tomorrow, and the rest of the week, with exception of Wednesday, will be teas! teas! teas!

EVERY one is interested in the engagement of Edmund Gilpin to a Milwaukee girl with the cutest name, Nancy Purchas. Her mother, Mrs. J. W. Heswick, of Milwaukee, made the announcement on Saturday. Edmund is the son of the Arthington Gilpins and a brother of Arthington, Jr., and Alfred Gilpin.

Edmund was with the 110th and was made a lieutenant in France, after having been under fire. He had been originally a member of the 10th, and on their return to the States he was with the two troops were disbanded, and went to France as a sergeant.

Edmund was with the 110th and was made a lieutenant in France, after having been under fire. He had been originally a member of the 10th, and on their return to the States he was with the two troops were disbanded, and went to France as a sergeant.

Edmund was with the 110th and was made a lieutenant in France, after having been under fire. He had been originally a member of the 10th, and on their return to the States he was with the two troops were disbanded, and went to France as a sergeant.

Edmund was with the 110th and was made a lieutenant in France, after having been under fire. He had been originally a member of the 10th, and on their return to the States he was with the two troops were disbanded, and went to France as a sergeant.

Edmund was with the 110th and was made a lieutenant in France, after having been under fire. He had been originally a member of the 10th, and on their return to the States he was with the two troops were disbanded, and went to France as a sergeant.

Edmund was with the 110th and was made a lieutenant in France, after having been under fire. He had been originally a member of the 10th, and on their return to the States he was with the two troops were disbanded, and went to France as a sergeant.

Edmund was with the 110th and was made a lieutenant in France, after having been under fire. He had been originally a member of the 10th, and on their return to the States he was with the two troops were disbanded, and went to France as a sergeant.

Edmund was with the 110th and was made a lieutenant in France, after having been under fire. He had been originally a member of the 10th, and on their return to the States he was with the two troops were disbanded, and went to France as a sergeant.

Edmund was with the 110th and was made a lieutenant in France, after having been under fire. He had been originally a member of the 10th, and on their return to the States he was with the two troops were disbanded, and went to France as a sergeant.

Edmund was with the 110th and was made a lieutenant in France, after having been under fire. He had been originally a member of the 10th, and on their return to the States he was with the two troops were disbanded, and went to France as a sergeant.

Edmund was with the 110th and was made a lieutenant in France, after having been under fire. He had been originally a member of the 10th, and on their return to the States he was with the two troops were disbanded, and went to France as a sergeant.

Edmund was with the 110th and was made a lieutenant in France, after having been under fire. He had been originally a member of the 10th, and on their return to the States he was with the two troops were disbanded, and went to France as a sergeant.

Edmund was with the 110th and was made a lieutenant in France, after having been under fire. He had been originally a member of the 10th, and on their return to the States he was with the two troops were disbanded, and went to France as a sergeant.

Edmund was with the 110th and was made a lieutenant in France, after having been under fire. He had been originally a member of the 10th, and on their return to the States he was with the two troops were disbanded, and went to France as a sergeant.

up his apartment in town and is making his home with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. Dawson Coleman, in Bryn Mawr.

Mrs. and Mrs. Richard S. Newbold, of 2212 Walnut street, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Marie Heckscher Newbold. Mrs. Newbold was Miss Anna Heckscher.

Mrs. Joseph W. Bailey, Jr., is in New York for several days' stay.

Mr. Francis S. McIlhenney, of Chestnut Hill, has been spending a few days at the mansion, Atlantic City.

Mrs. Gallatin Welsh, of Chestnut Hill, is staying a few days at the Ambassador, Atlantic City.

Mrs. John Ducey and his son, Master John Ducey, Jr., are visiting Mrs. Ducey's mother, Mrs. John Leeds Barrall, of Seminole avenue, Chestnut Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hawley Tausig, of East 17th street, who have been visiting in New York, returned home today.

Mrs. George R. Van Dusen and Miss Catherine Van Dusen, of West Evergreen avenue, Chestnut Hill, are spending some time in Morristown, and on their return will go to the Aldine Hotel for the winter.

Miss Constance Biddle, of 2017 De Lancy place, is visiting the Misses McMurtry on Norwood avenue, Chestnut Hill.

GERMANTOWN

Miss Mary Elizabeth Ryker, of 4679 Germantown avenue, and Mr. Thomas McVeigh, of 5004 Wayne avenue, will be married in St. Francis Assisi Church, Logan and Greene streets, at 9 o'clock next Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Clyde V. Jackson, of Greene street, and Mrs. Walter H. West, of Mr. D. R. Short, of Polham, leave tomorrow for Kansas. They expect to be gone about a fortnight.

The marriage of Miss Anna Catherine Cook, of 121 West Logan street, and Mr. Charles A. Davis, of 2228 Hibern street, will take place Saturday morning, October 25, at 9 o'clock, in St. Francis Assisi Church, Logan and Greene streets.

The marriage of Miss Veda M. Lawson, of 7015 an Dyke street, and Mr. Thomas McVeigh, of 5004 Wayne avenue, will take place tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Tacony Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard L. Ellis have returned from their bridal trip to Niagara Falls and New York, and are at home at 6222 Norwood street. Mrs. Ellis will be remembered as Miss Helen M. Halpin.

Miss Gladys Brennan, of North Fifteenth street, entertained the members of the Girls' Gown Chapter of the Germantown High School on Saturday evening. The guests included Miss Adelaide Grace, Miss Margaret Howard, Miss Helen Van Dusen, Miss Elizabeth Siegel, Miss Marion Knight, Miss Elizabeth Woodward, Miss Miriam McElroy, Miss Martha Diebert and Miss Elizabeth Werner.

Miss Persis Woodward, of 5133 Brinton street, entertained a party at her home on Saturday evening. Among her guests were Miss Marie Rinck, Miss Helena Uimer, Miss Alice Vogel, Miss Alice Hollis, Miss Margaret Atkins and Miss Mabel Linton.

TIAGA

Miss Helen Tabram will entertain the members of her sewing club this evening at her home, 1443 West Venango street. Her guests will include Miss Helen Tabram, Miss Anna Himmang, Miss Alice Tabram, Miss Anna Himmang, Mrs. Harry Black, Mrs. Garwood Marshall, Mrs. Charles Oughton, Mrs. Howard Marshall, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Charles Snyder, Jr.

Announcement is made of the wedding of Miss Pauline Seibold, daughter of Mrs. W. Seibold, of Twenty-seventh street and Lehigh avenue, and Mr. Edward Linder, of 3348 North Twenty-second street, by the Rev. Dr. Seybert, Mr. William Linder, who recently returned from overseas service, was his brother's best man. Mr. Linder and his bride, upon their return from their trip, will be at home at Lehigh avenue and Twenty-eighth street.

Dr. and Mrs. Albert L. Ront, of 1543 West Erie avenue, will entertain friends on Thursday evening. Their guests will be the members of their pinocle club, and this will be the first meeting for the coming season. The chairman of the auxiliary is Mrs. George P. Reichardt, of 1952 North Larch street, will take place on Wednesday evening, November 5, at the home of Mrs. Robert Seibert, who will be attended by Miss Helen Kane.

Rev. Herbert Agate, of 3500 North Twenty-third street, has gone to Bradford, Pa., to remain until Friday.

The wedding of Miss Emily S. Kurtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kurtz, of 3252 North Sixteenth street, and Mr. George P. Reichardt, of 1952 North Larch street, will take place on Wednesday evening, November 5, at the home of Mrs. Robert Seibert, who will be attended by Miss Helen Kane.

Miss Helen Peterson, of East Indiana avenue, will give a luncheon of ten covers on Tuesday afternoon for Miss Alice Kennedy, of Rochester, N. Y., who is spending several weeks as her guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hecht, of 2955 Kensington avenue, are entertaining their mother, Mrs. Sarah Hecht, of Flatbush, N. Y.

Mrs. C. Mergue, of East Allegheny avenue and G street, has returned from Reading, where she has been visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Biddle, who have bought Brynarth, the Cushman property in Rosemont, moved into their new home last week.

Mr. B. Dawson Coleman has given up his apartment in town and is making his home with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. Dawson Coleman, in Bryn Mawr.

Mrs. and Mrs. Richard S. Newbold, of 2212 Walnut street, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Marie Heckscher Newbold. Mrs. Newbold was Miss Anna Heckscher.

Mrs. Joseph W. Bailey, Jr., is in New York for several days' stay.

Mr. Francis S. McIlhenney, of Chestnut Hill, has been spending a few days at the mansion, Atlantic City.

Mrs. Gallatin Welsh, of Chestnut Hill, is staying a few days at the Ambassador, Atlantic City.

Mrs. John Ducey and his son, Master John Ducey, Jr., are visiting Mrs. Ducey's mother, Mrs. John Leeds Barrall, of Seminole avenue, Chestnut Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hawley Tausig, of East 17th street, who have been visiting in New York, returned home today.

Mrs. George R. Van Dusen and Miss Catherine Van Dusen, of West Evergreen avenue, Chestnut Hill, are spending some time in Morristown, and on their return will go to the Aldine Hotel for the winter.

Miss Constance Biddle, of 2017 De Lancy place, is visiting the Misses McMurtry on Norwood avenue, Chestnut Hill.

MISS CHARLOTTE LONG NOBLE

Miss Noble is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Noble. Her engagement to Mr. Sydney J. Rice has just been announced. Mr. Rice was formerly a lieutenant in the United States navy and recently returned from overseas.

ROXBOROUGH

Mrs. Joseph C. Davenport will entertain the members of her card club at luncheon tomorrow at her home, Hermit lane. Her guests will include Mrs. Samuel Borer, Mrs. Alfred Pachter, Mrs. Charles Eastwood, Mrs. John Cantley, Mrs. J. Ramsey, Mrs. Lew Burgess and Mrs. James Bancroft.

The Bethany ministers will give an entertainment on Saturday evening in the lecture hall of the Bethany Lutheran Church, under the direction of Mr. Carl A. Street, Jr., Mr. Frederick J. Adams and Mr. George H. Lare.

FALLS OF SCHUYLKILL

Mrs. James Lawson, of 3441 Queen lane, will give a masquerade dance on Friday evening, October 31, in American Hall, for the J. & J. Dobson Athletic Association. Mrs. Lawson, who will be assisted by Mrs. Annie Ford and Mrs. John Flanagan, is organizing a ladies' auxiliary to the association.

The Rev. F. A. Gacks, of Queen lane, has been spending part of the autumn in Cleveland, O.

Mr. David G. Lawson, of the United States transport Harrisburg, who enlisted in the United States navy the day after this country entered the war, has returned to Philadelphia and will shortly receive his discharge from the service.

The Rev. Benjamin F. Bray, Jr., of Queen lane, left this morning for Bradford, Pa., where he will attend the Pennsylvania general convention of Baptist churches.

STRAWBERRY MANSON

Mr. and Mrs. S. Goodfriend, of 3213 Susquehanna avenue, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ruth Bertha Goodfriend, to Mr. Sidney Harold Vogel, of this city. The betrothed couple were the recipients of many congratulations at a largely attended reception yesterday at the home of Miss Goodfriend.

Miss Esther Pearlman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Pearlman, of 1822 North Thirty-first street, was married last evening to Mr. David Eagle, of Philadelphia, at Apollo Hall, 1710 N. Broad street, by the Rev. Jacob Goldstein. The bride wore a gown of white satin, a white tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet of roses. She was attended by Miss Amy Jacobson, maid of honor, who wore white baronet satin, and the following bridesmaids: Miss Ida Greenberg, Miss Mary Singer, Miss Alice Kestelman and Miss Evelyn Myrov. The best man was Mr. George Pearlman, brother of the bride, and the ushers were Mr. Samuel Jacobson, Mr. Harry Pierce, Mr. Reuben Wolfson and Mr. Louis Leonard. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Lachman, of Chester; Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lachman, of Chester; Mr. and Mrs. H. Smith, of Chester; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Winer, of Chester; Mr. Isadore Nover and Mr. and Mrs. Reece. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Eagle left for Niagara Falls, and on their return will live at 3153 Euclid avenue.

WISSAHICKON

Miss Helen Thomas, of Rochelle avenue, will entertain the members of the Westminster Guild this evening at her home, when her guests will include Miss Marian Lyle, Miss Dorothy Thomas, Miss Clara Springer, Mrs. Irvin Lyndall, Miss Rebecca Keenan, Miss Elizabeth Betty, Miss Marie Schilling, Miss Elizabeth Hynd, Miss Kathryn Stevenson, Miss Margaret Pratt, Miss Mary Kennedy and Miss Beatrice Miller.

Mr. William Ellis, of 529 James-town avenue, will entertain the members of the Psi Mu Epsilon Fraternity at his home tomorrow evening.

Miss Irene Spencer, of Ridge avenue and Lauriston street, will be hostess tomorrow evening to the members of the Wissahickon Girls' League.

Miss Kitty Segall, formerly of South Philadelphia, will receive some of her friends on Sunday evening at her new home, 6228 Carpenter street. Her guests will include Miss Dorothy Karndon, Miss Florence Modill, Miss Bernice Gelpin, Mr. Leo Weinroth, Mr. Samuel Sweet, Mr. William Gross, Mr. Benjamin Friedman and Mr. Samuel J. Melnick.

Mrs. William J. Dixon, of 1722 Moore street, announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Helen Elizabeth Dixon, to Mr. Karl E. K. Ragart, on Thursday, October 16, at the Temple Presbyterian Church. After a short trip through the South, Mrs. Ragart returned to Philadelphia on December 15 at 5830 Willows avenue.

UNUSUAL VALUES IN DINNERWARE

French China (No. 11109) $72

106 PIECES "OPEN STOCK" Select what pieces and quantities you want.

Attractive Rose Spray decoration with a conventional Basketwork border.

Sole Agents for Wedgwood Dinnerware

Wright, Tyndale & van Roden, Inc.

Reputed the Largest Distributors of High-Grade Dinnerware

1212 Chestnut Street

MANAYUNK

The members of the Men's Guild of St. David's Protestant Episcopal Church, of which the Rev. R. Barnett is rector, will give their eleventh annual masquerade dances in the parish house on Wednesday evening, October 23. The assembly room will be decorated with the many symbols appropriate to the Halloween season, as well as autumn flowers and leaves. The committee includes Mr. William Riddler, Mr. George Heywood, Mr. Thomas Tomlinson and Mr. Edward Bozby.

4000 PENN MEN TO VISIT N. Y.

Special Trains to Carry Students to Dartmouth Game Saturday

Four thousand University of Pennsylvania men will make their way to New York when the special football train leaves the Dartmouth station November 8, at the Polo grounds. Special trains, accommodating 125 men each, will leave from South Street Station Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, according to the plans of a large committee at work on the campus.

NORRISTOWN

The members of the teaching corps of the Joseph K. Godwals Public School gave a surprise shower to Miss Margaret Evans, a fellow teacher. Miss Evans will be married to Mr. Raymond H. Boedel, of Norristown, on Thursday evening, October 23, in the Hayes Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Herbert C. Wentz, of 1451 De Kalb street, gave a luncheon at her home in honor of Miss Lorraine Hillis, of Mr. Airtz, whose engagement to Mr. Edwin Mann Wentz, of Norristown, has been announced. The guests included Mrs. Warren L. Irish, Mrs. Spencer L. Jones, Mrs. J. Anshel Williams, Miss Marjorie Childs, Miss Elizabeth McCarter, Mrs. John Carter, Miss Miriam Clemens, of Chestnut Hill; Miss Eleanor Hilleary, of Mount Airy, and Mrs. William Hess, of St. Martins.

CHESTNUT HILL

A dinner was given in the hall of the One Mother of Consolation school house on Chestnut avenue Friday evening in honor of the men of the parish who served in the war. A number of other veterans were present to do them honor.

The community dances at the Service House on Germantown avenue (Chestnut Hill) on Thursday evenings are very popular and there is now a dancing class on Monday evenings.

ROXBOROUGH

Mrs. Joseph C. Davenport will entertain the members of her card club at luncheon tomorrow at her home, Hermit lane. Her guests will include Mrs. Samuel Borer, Mrs. Alfred Pachter, Mrs. Charles Eastwood, Mrs. John Cantley, Mrs. J. Ramsey, Mrs. Lew Burgess and Mrs. James Bancroft.

The Bethany ministers will give an entertainment on Saturday evening in the lecture hall of the Bethany Lutheran Church, under the direction of Mr. Carl A. Street, Jr., Mr. Frederick J. Adams and Mr. George H. Lare.

FALLS OF SCHUYLKILL

Mrs. James Lawson, of 3441 Queen lane, will give a masquerade dance on Friday evening, October 31, in American Hall, for the J. & J. Dobson Athletic Association. Mrs. Lawson, who will be assisted by Mrs. Annie Ford and Mrs. John Flanagan, is organizing a ladies' auxiliary to the association.

The Rev. F. A. Gacks, of Queen lane, has been spending part of the autumn in Cleveland, O.

Mr. David G. Lawson, of the United States transport Harrisburg, who enlisted in the United States navy the day after this country entered the war, has returned to Philadelphia and will shortly receive his discharge from the service.

The Rev. Benjamin F. Bray, Jr., of Queen lane, left this morning for Bradford, Pa., where he will attend the Pennsylvania general convention of Baptist churches.

STRAWBERRY MANSON

Mr. and Mrs. S. Goodfriend, of 3213 Susquehanna avenue, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ruth Bertha Goodfriend, to Mr. Sidney Harold Vogel, of this city. The betrothed couple were the recipients of many congratulations at a largely attended reception yesterday at the home of Miss Goodfriend.

Miss Esther Pearlman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Pearlman, of 1822 North Thirty-first street, was married last evening to Mr. David Eagle, of Philadelphia, at Apollo Hall, 1710 N. Broad street, by the Rev. Jacob Goldstein. The bride wore a gown of white satin, a white tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet of roses. She was attended by Miss Amy Jacobson, maid of honor, who wore white baronet satin, and the following bridesmaids: Miss Ida Greenberg, Miss Mary Singer, Miss Alice Kestelman and Miss Evelyn Myrov. The best man was Mr. George Pearlman, brother of the bride, and the ushers were Mr. Samuel Jacobson, Mr. Harry Pierce, Mr. Reuben Wolfson and Mr. Louis Leonard. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Lachman, of Chester; Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lachman, of Chester; Mr. and Mrs. H. Smith, of Chester; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Winer, of Chester; Mr. Isadore Nover and Mr. and Mrs. Reece. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Eagle left for Niagara Falls, and on their return will live at 3153 Euclid avenue.

WISSAHICKON

Miss Helen Thomas, of Rochelle avenue, will entertain the members of the Westminster Guild this evening at her home, when her guests will include Miss Marian Lyle, Miss Dorothy Thomas, Miss Clara Springer, Mrs. Irvin Lyndall, Miss Rebecca Keenan, Miss Elizabeth Betty, Miss Marie Schilling, Miss Elizabeth Hynd, Miss Kathryn Stevenson, Miss Margaret Pratt, Miss Mary Kennedy and Miss Beatrice Miller.

Mr. William Ellis, of 529 James-town avenue, will entertain the members of the Psi Mu Epsilon Fraternity at his home tomorrow evening.

Miss Irene Spencer, of Ridge avenue and Lauriston street, will be hostess tomorrow evening to the members of the Wissahickon Girls' League.

UNUSUAL VALUES IN DINNERWARE

French China (No. 11109) $72

106 PIECES "OPEN STOCK" Select what pieces and quantities you want.

Attractive Rose Spray decoration with a conventional Basketwork border.

Sole Agents for Wedgwood Dinnerware

Wright, Tyndale & van Roden, Inc.

Reputed the Largest Distributors of High-Grade Dinnerware

1212 Chestnut Street

KREISLER'S FINE RECITAL

Large Crowd Welcomes Artist After Two Years' Retirement

Fritz Kreisler demonstrated on Saturday afternoon what a hold he has on the music lovers of Philadelphia, when he made his first appearance here since he withdrew from the concert stage more than two years ago. Every seat in the Academy from pit to amphitheatre was occupied. About 150 persons were accommodated in the orchestra pit and double that number sat on the stage.

Mr. Kreisler's playing justified the attendance. He has lost none of his skill through his voluntary retirement, while in depth of sentiment and that real artistry that makes technique its servant, he seems actually to have gained.

When Kreisler plays, technique, its presence or its absence, is utterly forgotten. His one aim is to interpret the thought of the composer without regard to self-exploitation. He makes himself simply the medium through which the composer's thoughts are transmitted, or rather, translated to the audience, and never uses a composition as the vehicle to exhibit his own powers, great as they are. This is the highest type of artist.

Mr. Kreisler on Saturday followed the continental manner of playing the heaviest composition first. He opened with the G minor sonata of Tartini, following with the C major concerto of Vivaldi, played as one group. Both were beautifully rendered in a way that made this ancient Italian music really the forerunner of the great German classic composition as the whole in spirit if not in expression.

His principal number was the A minor concerto of Vivaldi, played with a brilliant and effective cadence of his own. This concerto, known as No. 22, is the best of the twenty one which Vivaldi wrote, and in Mr. Kreisler's hands it became a lovely piece of music, despite certain defects in the original, viewed in the light of the great modern concerto for the violin. Despite its apparent simplicity it is by no means an easy work, especially in the bowing, and was expertly played by the great artist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian, and the last music of Schubert, the Hymn to the Sun of Rimsky-Korsakoff and two numbers, "In Gitan" and "Fam-bourin Chinois," of his own. He was obliged to respond to four encores at the close and one after the Vivaldi concerto. Carl Lamson was the efficient, artistic accompanist.

Mr. Kreisler's concluding group was a melody of Gluck, the Essonian